

THE ALLERGY FIX

Premieres Thursday, February 27, 2014, at 7 p.m. (7:30 NL)
 CBC Television's "The Nature of Things" with David Suzuki

Dr. Susan Waserman and Dr. Stuart Turvey—Canadian allergy specialists and investigators with the AllerGen Network—discuss what's new in allergy research in a new documentary by CBC Television's "The Nature of Things."

CHILD Study Website

Visit the website of the Canadian Healthy Infant Longitudinal Development \(CHILD\) Study

AllerGen's groundbreaking birth cohort study that is looking into the early life origins of allergy, as featured in "The Allergy Fix."

CHILD Study: Media Coverage

Watch the trailer for "The Allergy Fix"

AllerGen Research Summaries

Read about current research investigating:

- early-life origins of allergy and asthma
 - food allergies
- peanut desensitization studies
- gene-environment interactions
- the use of biomarkers in understanding and responding to the challenges of allergies

Read the AllerGen NCE Annual Report

Stay up-to-date on advancements in the science of allergy and asthma with AllerGen's Success Stories

Click any cover image to read about cutting-edge research conducted by AllerGen investigators.
 To receive electronic copies of Success Stories, contact kimwright@allergen-nce.ca.