

Attribution Statements

December 2021

To facilitate acknowledgment of AllerGen support, a selection of recommended citations is provided:

Short version	This work was supported by AllerGen Inc. (the Allergy, Genes and Environment Network).
Long version	This work was supported by AllerGen Inc. (the Allergy, Genes and Environment Network), a national multidisciplinary research network supporting research, networking, commercialization, knowledge mobilization and capacity building activities that contribute to reducing the morbidity, mortality and socio-economic impact of allergic disease. From 2004 to 2021, AllerGen was a member of the Networks of Centres of Excellence (NCE), a Government of Canada program that funds partnerships between universities, industry, government and not-for-profit organizations to connect leading-edge research with industrial know-how and strategic investment.
Acknowledging AllerGen support when making presentations	AllerGen PowerPoint templates and slides providing an overview of the Network and AllerGen's corporate logo are available electronically to be embedded into electronic or print presentations upon request.

For more information, contact info@allergen.ca